We don't expect final project approval until mid to late 2009. Construction could possibly start in 2012 at the earliest, depending on funding. Thank you for your continued interest.

Here is our DRAFT map of the proposed alignment in proximity to your property (we haven't done final design yet). Looks like your property is just outside our proposed right of way line. Questions, let me know.

Hi Mr. Steele,

It usually takes a day or two for me to get a map of the information you've requested. I should have something for you early next week.
